

FLOOD TOLL IN THREE STATES MOUNTS TODAY

MENCKEN BACK, TAKES CRACK AT SEVERAL THINGS

Says New Deal Will End in Big Smash at "Payday"

New York, April 5—(AP)—Henry L. Mencken, the sage of Baltimore and most famous cynic in America, returned from a Mediterranean cruise today sufficiently refreshed to take right smart cracks at the following:

- (1) The new deal.
- (2) Insull.
- (3) The veterans.
- (4) Clergymen.

Coming up the bay on the liner Europa in bright sunshine, Mencken was pleasantly gloomy about almost everything.

He said he was for a planned economy, "if you can find somebody to plan it." As to the new deal, he referred to it as the running of a ship by the ship's barbers.

Big Smash Coming

"My private opinion is that the big smash is going to come next year when the tax bills come in, when the people learn that the bills have to be paid," he said.

He shook his head. "It's going to be a sad awakening."

Mencken visited Athens just after Samuel Insull, fugitive, left there.

He sighed. "Athens is ruined," he said. "It has forgotten Socrates, and now it has only Insull, and he isn't there any more."

He referred to recent exposes of power utilities influence upon legislatures as "sport," and averred that prosperity had returned because, he said, "the thieves are getting back—the old bogus war veterans are on the rolls again."

Tried Conversion

He said that during the cruise in the Mediterranean he tried to convert several clergymen to Christianity, but, "it can't be done."

He also took time out to take a crack or two at the humanists.

"All men are moral," he said, "their systems differ, but universal opinion is agreed on the basic ideals. The trouble with the humanists is they assume that if a man does not have their standard he has no standards at all."

"But tell me," he asked, "What is doing in newspaper circles?"

He was told that reporters had organized a union. He snapped his fingers.

"I know," he said. "How is it getting along? Is it organized in Baltimore? Yes? I am going right down to join. I am eligible because I am not an executive officer on my paper. It is something I have always believed in. I don't think it will ever accomplish anything, but it will be a hell of a lot of fun."

Continuing to talk shop, Mencken averred that English newspapers "have something on us."

Hits City Editors

"For one thing," he said, "the English papers are more orderly. They let the story tell itself. They recognize that if a story is dramatic it needs no fancy writing."

He said he did not intend to return to the editing of a magazine.

"I'm too old," he said. "It has always been my contention that every city editor ought to be shot at the age of 35. A man's got to be crazy to be a city editor, anyway."

He shed a tear for what he called "the poor pious Jews in this country who save their nickels to send to Palestine."

"Religion is adjoined in Palestine," he said.

He predicted that in another twenty years there would be "another big rumple which will end with a man on horseback."

"America," he said, "is headed for something new and worse than Fascism. In fact, Fascism will look like a Boy Scout movement in comparison with what we will get. We'll end, too, with a man on horseback."

In his opinion the man on horseback won't be anybody in Europe, because there is nobody there "fit to guard a crossing on a railroad."

Mrs. Mencken returned with him.

One Victim of Plane Crash in Andes Mountains on March 10th Reported Alive in Wild Jungles

Five Companions of Milwaukee Man Were Killed

Calit, Colombia, April 5—(AP)—Newton C. Marshall of Milwaukee was reported found alive today, the only survivor of an airplane crash on March 10 in the Andes. The report of the discovery was made officially by the Bolivarvalle Department.

It was said that five bodies were found in the cabin of the airplane, the Von Krohn of the Scandia Airline.

Details of how Marshall may have survived three weeks in the jungle after the crash were not immediately available.

There was confusion here over the reported finding of Marshall alive and five other occupants of the plane dead, for when the plane took off on a flight in the wild Choco district of western Colombia it was reported to be carrying four persons.

Only Four Listed

They were Marshall, Walter Geck, pilot, and two other passengers, Julio Zuniga, employee of the Choco Intendencia, and an unidentified German.

A large shipment of gold also was supposed to be on board the plane.

For many days after the plane disappeared, military and commercial craft went up in search of it, but nothing was found and the aerial search finally was abandoned.

The region is mountainous and filled with heavy jungle growth making land travel extremely difficult.

Marshall was said to have been found alive by a party of Indians searching for treasure.

Gold Still in Plane

They said Marshall was extremely weak and had been forced to leave the smashed plane because of sanitary conditions resulting from the deaths of his companions.

He had wandered, it was reported, through the dense jungles ever since March 10.

It was said that the plane was not completely destroyed and that it still contained the large gold cargo which had been destined for the government mint at Medellin.

Scandia Airline immediately dispatched a searching plane to determine definitely the truth of the report.

Moline, Ill., April 5—(AP)—Newton Marshall, only survivor of a plane crash in the Andes mountains in Colombia, March 10, last, was graduated from Moline high school in 1906. He later entered the University of Michigan where he took up mining engineering.

AUBURN-HAIRED WOMAN BLOCKS DILLINGER HUNT

Parries Questions of Officers With Cryptic Answers

St. Paul, Minn., April 5—(AP)—An auburn-haired woman, parrying police questions with cryptic answers, stood today between federal agents and possible capture of the notorious John (Wooden Gun) Dillinger.

The officers continued silent on the progress of their investigation; but reports were circulated that the woman is Bernice Norton, a friend of Evelyn Frechette who, in turn, is a friend of Dillinger. Agents referred to the woman as "Bessie," and her description fits closely that of the Norton woman.

The woman occupied an apartment with Eugene Green, a Dillinger associate. Green was severely wounded and the woman was captured Tuesday night when the pair called at the home of a Neccess for luggage Green had left there.

Discover Hideouts

The arrest of the pair led to discovery of two more hideouts of the new Dillinger gang in the Twin Cities. The resultant inquiry led, too, to the questioning of Edward G. Bremer, St. Paul banker, who paid $200,000 for freedom from kidnapers last January after being held captive 22 days. The possible connection between Dillinger gangster and the Bremer case was not explained.

Dismissal orders for twenty state employees were sustained by the commission's finding they were dismissed for due cause.

Reinstatement of Herbert B. Zook, attendant, Peoria, was ordered when evidence showed the number of attendants at the Peoria state hospital increased rather than decreased following his dismissal. The commission ordered payment of his salary from February 12 to the time of his reinstatement.

Thomas Wolverton, plumber, East Moline state hospital, dismissed November 22, was also reinstated. The commission held he was dismissed for political reasons.

OVER A SCORE KNOWN DEAD IN RAGING WATERS

Nine Bodies Recovered in Oklahoma: Four Dead in Texas

By The Associated Press

Texas entered into the nation's flood picture today with four victims, as nine bodies were recovered in a western Oklahoma flood in which nearly a score may have perished.

As the case in the Oklahoma flood which centered around Elk City and Hammon the southwest Texas deaths near Menard occurred when a stream, usually shallow, became a torrent because of heavy rains.

C. P. Smith, district engineer, reported the Oklahoma flood damage at $625,000.

It was estimated that damage of several million dollars was done in northern and western Wisconsin by rain and melting snow. Nine persons died.

Seven channel projects on the upper Mississippi were endangered today when the river reached a high stage and continued its rise.

Waters were receding in Connecticut. Storms in Ohio caused damage estimated at $100,000. A man was killed by lightning at Canton.

In Kansas the rains continued but were less serious. Farmers expected their crops to benefit.

Snow held up highway and air traffic in the Rocky Mountain region and lay as deep as 15 inches in places in the Dakota hills.

In the east ten families near Hartford, Conn., abandoned their homes when the Connecticut river rose more than two feet above flood stage.

SENATORS COLD TOWARD WAGNER LABOR PROPOSAL

Drastic Changes Will Have to be Made to Secure Support

Washington, April 5—(AP)—A cold attitude toward the Wagner Labor Board bill was exhibited today by some members of the Senate Labor committee.

Chairman Walsh (D. Miss.) under whose direction hearings have been held for weeks on the measure to outlaw employer-dominated company unions and make the Labor Board a permanent institution, indicated drastic changes would have to be made before the committee would approve.

Before the resumption of hearings today, Walsh said the testimony previously given had called into the question the wisdom of many of the measure's provisions for rigid control of employer-employee relationships.

Apparently slated for discard or modification were the clauses which employers believe would virtually doom so-called "company unions."

Members of industry and some economists all have hit at the bill whose preamble includes the assumption that the "individual, unorganized worker is helpless to exercise actual liberty of contract, to secure a just reward for his services, and to preserve a decent standard of living."

JOHN LOONEY TO GET LIBERTY SATURDAY MORNING

Former Vice Lord of Rock Island Ends Prison Term

Joliet, Ill., April 5—(AP)—John P. Looney will end on Saturday morning his eight years of penance for the murder of Bill Gabel, Rock Island bar and brothel keeper.

Warden Frank Whipp announced today that Looney, one time vice lord of Rock Island, would be released from the state penitentiary some time after midnight Friday, his 14-year-prison term finished in a little more than eight years.

Attempts were made last autumn to gain a parole for the ailing convict, who had been an invalid through most of his confinement and was suffering from hemorrhages. However, he was ordered to remain in prison until his term automatically ended, with time off for good behavior.

Looney denied himself to callers who sought interviews, and Warden Whipp said the request for privacy would be respected. His plans for the future could not be learned.

He was convicted Dec. 3, 1925 in Circuit Court at Galesburg, where he had taken the case on a change of venue from Rock Island. His own son, Connor Looney, had been slain in a protracted underworld war that finally precipitated state and federal investigations. Captured in New Mexico, he was returned to be convicted first of conspiracy in the vice and gambling ring and later of murder.

—WIDOW OF SLAIN

—The boy brought them up to room 801, and I stepped into another room and tried on a dress. There was some further comment about my purchases which were made more in a spirit of fun and all of the men appeared to be on very friendly terms, their talk centering on cattle and the markets.

—I had returned to our apartment and again about 2 o'clock Gerald called me on the phone and said that we were all going out to dinner together. I dressed hurriedly and started back to room 801.
When I reached the hallway, there were several of these. I heard a struggle going on within the room.
I listened for a moment and then tried the door and found that it was locked. I hammered on the door and told the men who I was and Mr. Barwick came to the door, opened it and told me to go back to my room, that everything was all right.

—I went back to my room as he had directed and later Gerald came in, washed up, and we went to the hotel coffee shop for luncheon. I questioned my husband about the scuffle I had heard and he replied that Cline was quite a scraper. There was something said about a check that had been given Gerald about three years ago in a cattle deal. Gerald up to this time at least had not carried the revolver with him as I knew it was in the drawer of my dressing table.

—After dinner Barwick came to our apartment and talked to Gerald about the trouble in 801. They were talking together and I left the room and walked up to 801 and inquired of Cline the cause of the trouble and asked if there was any money matters involved. He replied that there was.

—Porter Took Revolver
"I was just leaving the room, when Gerald came up and at the door of room 801. Porter took my husband's revolver from him.
There was an exchange of words and shortly afterward, Gerald and myself went to our room, then left the hotel and walked to the business district. I left him at a busy corner and crossed the street. As I turned he waved to me and that is the last time I saw him alive.
I should judge that I was gone about two hours after I left Gerald and was in the Hollywood Shop talking with a sales lady when a call came from the hotel requesting my immediate return. This was about 4:30 Friday afternoon. I hurriedly returned to the hotel, where I was met in the lobby, escorted to our rooms and there was informed that my husband had been killed. It was not until the following morning, Saturday, that I was permitted to view his body, and by that time, all arrangements had been made for its return to Kansas City and thence to Dixon.
Reporters flooded my room and fired questions at me in rapid succession, expecting immediate responses despite my intense sorrow. It was all so sudden, so tragic an end to our wonderful honeymoon of less than one month's duration! I can scarcely realize all that has taken place in so short a time, but I expect to return to Amarillo probably some time next week and complete the business transactions which Gerald started.

—Asked the direct question, who she believed fired the shot that cost her husband his life, Mrs.
Knapp replied:
"I cannot and do not believe that Mr. Cline shot Gerald. They had been close friends and business associates or several years."

—Suit, Effects Missing
"As I have said, I was not permitted to go back to room 801 at any time. I was not allowed to view my husband's body until the following morning, the suit he wore at the time, I have never seen, and some of his personal effects, including some money, are still missing. I know more than all this, but I am going back to Amarillo next week to close up my husband's business affairs, and then I may be able to find out other things. Gerald was no coward, he had been successful and all of these men tried to appear friendly towards him, but even to me it was apparent that jealousy existed among the cattle dealers, probably because of Gerald's successful operations in the Panhandle cattle country."

SIR WALTER SCOTT'S FAMILY BIBLE
THERE is in the library at Abbottsford a fine copy of Bakerville's folio Bible, two volumes, printed at Cambridge in 1763; and there appears on the blank leaf in the trembling handwriting of Scott's mother, this inscription:—"To my dear son, Walter Scott, from his affectionate Mother, Anne Rutherford, January 1st, 1819." Under these words her son has written as follows:—"This Bible was the gift of my grandfather, Dr. John Rutherford, to my mother, and presented by her to me; alas! the last gift which I was to receive from that excellent parent, and, as I verily believe, the thing which she most loved in the world—not only in humble veneration of the sacred contents, but as the dearest pledge of her father's affection to her. As such she gave it

About 1:30 the meeting was called to order with group singing led by Mrs. McCleary. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the Treasurer's report given. Roll call was answered by each member reporting the amount of special work completed.

The session on "Renovating Matresses" given by the leaders Mrs. Hartshorn and Mrs. McCleary was very interesting and helpful. Mrs. Ethel Johnson of Rock Falls passed everyone by singing several solos. A one-minute skit by Mrs. Welch and Mrs. Johnson was enjoyed. Suggestions for lessons to be given in the future were given by members. Upon motion the meeting adjourned to meet May 1st, with Mrs. Buckaloo.

May 1st Will Be National Child Health Day: Is Important

On May 1st will be celebrated the tenth anniversary of National Child Health Day. Each year this day has assumed greater importance and has fostered a greater spirit of cooperation according to an editorial in the May issue of Woman's World.

The editorial reads, "Each year new groups have realized that they had a contribution to make. Steadily from May Day to May Day communities have come to understand that teamwork for child health is for the best interests of children and the nation."

"Of all the values of May Child Health Day, perhaps the greatest is the opportunity it presents to enlist the active interest of groups which might otherwise not give the subject of child health any particular thought, and to draw them into the general program."

In connection with this important day, Dr. Nina Simmonds Estlin, famous diet and nutrition specialist, in an article on "Why Cereals?" in the May issue of Woman's World points out that cereal products make for happy, active children. She claims that during the past few years our attention has been focused on vitamin and mineral foods, but that the energy foods have not received sufficient attention.

"Milk, fruit and vegetables are excellent foods; they furnish among other things minerals and several of the vitamins—but the diet may be low in energy—low in carbohydrates. Children with their constant activity need lots of energy foods, that is one of the reasons for the importance of cereals in their diets."

In addition to the cereals which we usually think of only as breakfast foods, Dr. Estlin includes as cereal foods different kinds of flours, macaroni, spaghetti, noodles, hominy, rice, corn grits and cornstarch which lends a great variety to our menus.

She recommends cereals, but with variations as a year round dish for children, and says, "On a cold winter morning or evening a dish of steaming hot cereal together with hot cocoa and buttered toast would undoubtedly make the child feel 'warm all over' far better than would a dish of cold cereal. A glass of milk and a slice of bread and butter. On the other hand, on a hot, sultry summer morning or evening a cold cereal with a glass of milk and buttered toast is undoubtedly more refreshing than a dish of hot cereal."

"The choice of cereals like a number of other matters in nutrition can be, within limits, left to the likes and dislikes of the individual. In any case they should be varied and differently combined from time to time. A happy, contented child eating a cold cereal as part of his breakfast is far better off than an unhappy child being forced to eat a hot cereal, so is the mother."

Mrs. Thos. Nystrom, Bride, Is Honored

Welcome New Converts Last Evening Christian Ch.

The Christian church was packed with members and friends last evening, who gathered to welcome the new members that came into the church during the Easter revival effort. There were five responses to the gospel invitation extended by the pastor at the close of his sermon, making a total of forty-two additions for the revival effort. A baptismal service was conducted following the sermon in which five candidates received the ordinance of baptism. A fellowship service was conducted by the pastor in which certificates were presented to all baptized since the annual meeting last July. A roll call followed in which fifty-three new members responded and formed a line around the front and sides of the auditorium. During the singing of a hymn the members filed past shaking hands with each new member, extending the right hand of Christian fellowship in the good old fashioned way. A social hour with refreshments followed in the church basement presided over by the ladies—wives of the deacons. The wives of the elders acted as the official reception committee of the evening, meeting the new-member guests at the door and attaching a name card with ribbon to each as a distinguishing mark. The occasion was one of great pleasure to all and of much encouragement to the new members.

HOW POLITICIANS WORK WHEN JOBS BECKON.

The direct conflict that can arise between partisan politics and the public interest was never better illustrated than in the current congressional row over the Norris amendment to the Home Owners' Loan Corporation bill.

Here, as clear-cut as such a thing could be, in a case in which the claims of politics run directly opposite to the needs of the nation as a whole. The difference between a public servant and a politician could not get a better demonstration.

The new bill makes certain changes in the HOLC law, guaranteeing the $2,000,000,000 in bonds which the corporation may issue to protect hard-pressed home owners.

Before the bill got by, Senator Norris of Nebraska tacked on an amendment which would prohibit considerations from playing any part in the choice of employees for this corporation.

The Senate, after much prayer, fasting and beating of breasts, adopted this amendment by the margin of just one vote. Then the bill went to the House, where the banking committee immediately struck out the amendment.

Now there simply is not any question about the rights and wrongs of this amendment. A corporation that can issue two billions in bonds to home owners can do a very great work, if it be directed properly; and it can accomplish an uncommon amount of very ugly phenagling if its personnel happens to be made up of political hacks.

Why, then, did the amendment have such rough sledding? The answer is plain as a pikestaff. Congressmen need to be able to pass out jobs to their henchmen to make their re-election easier. This corporation offers many new jobs; from the political viewpoint, it would be insane to pass up this chance for party profit.

The federal government has taken on many more activities than it ever indulged in before. These activities touch us all very closely; they affect our wages, our jobs, the prices we pay for necessities, the conditions under which we work, the homes we live in.

It is of the highest importance that they be conducted as efficiently as is humanly possible.

If the politicians at Washington can see in the whole business nothing but a fine new chance to lay their paws on jobs for deserving Democrats, the whole business sooner or later is going to come down about our ears.

PRICE OF SELFISHNESS.

The desire to make a financial killing is one of the most natural and understandable of all human emotions—especially in times like these. Nevertheless, there are cases in which it can be a disastrous thing.

The federal government recently prepared to spend $9,000,000 on a slum clearance program in a large manufacturing city. It had all its plans made; but now it may have to abandon them altogether, because the owners of the land involved are holding out for high prices.

"Owners have let this property deteriorate for years," says one government official, "and in many instances have never received any income from it nor kept up taxes."

"The fact that owners have done nothing would make it appear that they considered the land worth exactly nothing, but now so many of them want speculative prices that the city will lose the expenditure of $9,000,000 unless right prices are found in other places."

It would be hard to find a clearer instance of the ruinous price a community can be forced to pay for individual selfishness.

PASSING OF OLD IDEALS.

An interesting landmark in the evolution of social ideals in America is furnished by the recent action of trustees of Muskingum College, in Ohio, as a result of which Muskingum students are going to be allowed to dance and to play cards.

Muskingum is a United Presbyterian college, founded 97 years ago. Until just now, it has always banned these two diversions, in defence to the opinions of the people from whom it has drawn students and financial support.

Now it has polled the parents of its students, and has learned that 74 per cent of them do not oppose dancing and that 68 per cent do not oppose card playing.

Opposition to dancing and card playing was once a fundamental tenet of the evangelical denominations. Now it has just about vanished. This Muskingum action marks the passing of one of the final barriers.

The midget bakers walked along and Scouty said, "My, b... you're strong, to carry such a great big loaf of bread. Are you tired out?" "Of course not," one said. "Mercy me! We're feeling fit as fit can be. We'd like to know, though, who called us, and what it's all about." "I called," replied the magic man. "I make tots happy when I can. One of these Tinies told me he was hungry for some bread."

"I knew, if you were near, you'd come, so I could give the youngster some. I guess they all would like to eat. Now they can go ahead." The bread was then put on the ground and, as the Tinies gathered round, we Coppy said, "It makes me hungry, 'cause it looks so nice."

"How are we going to cut it, though? That's what I'd really like to know. I wish we had a saw," said little Scouty, with a slice by slice.

"Say, that's a fine idea, son!" the magic man exclaimed. "I'll run and get the saw you're wishing for."

MANY NEW FACES WILL BE SEEN IN BIG LOOP PARKS

Many Changes Have Been Made in Majors for Coming Season

(This is the first of a brief series of stories summing up the salient changes in major league lineups, based on latest training developments.)

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

New York, Apr. 5.—(AP)—A flock of new faces in American League lineups, and an almost complete set of carpentered outfielders in the National League add something different this year to the attraction of the opening of the 1934 major league season, less than two weeks away.

Without exception, every pitching staff in the two circuits boasts strangers brought in since last fall. There will be new catchers in the spike holes back of half the National League plates whereas but one radical change has taken place in the American League, of five new managers, three appear in the National League.

But as far as the infielders and outfielders are concerned, the two leagues started out in pursuit of opposite aims through the winter and spring training season.

New Outfielders

In the National League, for instance, all but two clubs, the Pittsburgh Pirates and Boston Braves, will open April 17 with one or more outfielders who worked elsewhere last summer. In the American League every outfield except three, the Washington Senators, Boston Red Sox, and Detroit Tigers, stand pat on the rosters of 1933.

On the other hand, almost bob up with regular jobs in only three National League lineups, though there has been considerable shifting about among the holdovers of four other teams. Wholesale infield changes mark the appearance of the American League teams, with only the Athletics and possibly Washington standing pat.

Even the world champion New York Giants joined in the shuffling about of National League outfielders by trading George Davis to St. Louis for George Watkins, a left-hander who figures to reach the short right field stands at the Polo Grounds with more or less ease.

Cubs Star Klein

The Cards, in addition to Davis in center field, have held over belting Joe Medwick, freshman last season, but with Ernie Orsatti slowed by holdout trouble either Jack Rothrock, former American League, or Colonel Buster Mills from Rochester will gallop about until further notice. The Cubs have the league's top belter, Chuck Klein, teaming with Kiki Cuyler and either Babe Herman, Riggs Stephenson or the rookie, Tut Stainback, as developments may warrant.

Either Ethan Allen, from the Cards, or the Pacific Coast Hawaiian, Henry Oana, will be in the Phillies' outfield with Wes Schulmerich and Chick Phillips, and Len Koeneke, once an expensive Giant rookie, seems to have won a place in Brooklyn in between Johnny Frederick and either Danny Taylor, Buzz Boyle or Hack Wilson. Adam Comorosky, from the Pirates, adds spice to the Reds attack with Chick Hefey and Johnny Moore.

German Takes Lead in 18.2 Tournament

Chicago, April 4.—(AP)—Eric Hagelacher of Germany was in first place in the international 18.2 billiard championship tournament today, by virtue of his 400 to 223 victory, in six innings over Willie Hoppe, New York.

His defeat last night removed Hoppe as a first place contender and only Welker Cochran, San Francisco, threatened. Cochran meets Hoppe tonight and a victory would give the Californian a tie again for first ranking.

Hagelacher, in his sixth trip, ran out with an unfinished run of 141, equalling his best game of the meet.

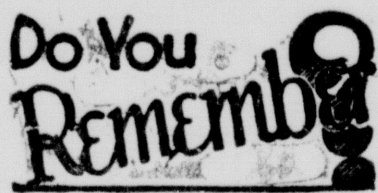

Hoppe won the break and took a lead of 76 in the fourth when he ran 168, but the German scored 55, 69, and then ran out.

Kline Shows No Bad Effects from Break

Charlotte, N. C.—Bob Kline pitching for the first time this year as the Philadelphia Athletics slowly make their way homeward, showed that he has suffered no apparent after effects from breaking his left arm during the winter. He pitched four innings yesterday during the A's 16 to 3 rout of the Charlotte Hornets.

Heving and Lyons Cheer Sox Manager

Phoenix, Ariz.—Joe Heving has joined Ted Lyons in sending cheer to Manager Lew Fonseca of the White Sox.

Following Lyons' fine pitching performance of Tuesday, Heving yesterday held Pittsburgh to two hits and one run in four innings. Al Simmons also is beginning to find the range with his long hits.

Phillies Have Had Unusual Success

Winter Haven, Fla.—Bound homeward for Philadelphia the Phillies have completed one of their most successful southern baseball schedules in years. They won ten of seventeen games.

Next on the schedule is the city series with the Athletics for Philadelphia's championship.

Schoolboy Rowe to Make First Start

Bradenton, Fla.—Lynn (Schoolboy) Rowe, youthful Detroit right-hander, will make his first pitching start of the season against Montreal tomorrow after having been doctored for a sore arm. The Tigers play the St. Louis Cardinals today.

LEFTY GROVE'S SORE ARM HAS STAR WORRIED

But Eddie Collins Is Not Excited: Says He'll be O. K.

Boston, April 5.—(AP)—Eddie Collins, Boston Red Sox General Manager, today refused to become alarmed about the reported flare-up of Bob "Lefty" Grove over his $100,000 southpaw pitching arm.

"When two such capable trainers as our Doc Woods and the Athletics' Doc Ebling, without having talked to each other, coincide in their diagnosis of Grove's sore arm I am confident it will right itself in time," Collins said.

"I really am not surprised. You know this is the first sore arm Lefty has ever experienced and you may well imagine his state of mind when it refused to respond to treatment at once.

"We have no intention of trying to call off our deal with Connie Mack. It was made in good faith and it is merely one of the breaks in the game that Grove should have contracted a cold or injured his shoulder muscles in some way."

Quit In Disgust

Grove, according to reports from Orlando, Fla., suddenly threw down his glove yesterday while warming up with Coach Tom Daly.

He had been cutting loose and became so excited when his arm twinged that he cried out, "To hell with it. I guess I can't do the club any good. I might as well hang up my spikes."

"My arm is terrible," he said later. "I don't know what to make of it. Maybe it will come around when we hit cold either. If it doesn't—well, I don't know."

Collins has been informed by what he regards as competent authorities that "Lefty" has a sore muscle in his upper arm and that the pain will gradually disappear under hard work.

Giants Draw Well After Leaving Camp

Meridian, Miss.—Despite their $10,000 guarantee from Miami Beach, the New York Giants weren't especially popular in Florida this spring but they've received a full share of warm welcomes on the way home. Since leaving Florida, they have played before approximately 28,000 fans in six games and even had a band and a special welcoming committee to meet them when they came to Meridian.

Grimm Convinced Pitchers are Cold

San Antonio, Tex.—Manager Charlie Grimm had a suspicion that his Cub pitchers weren't so hot this spring. Now he's convinced of it.

Pat Maone, Bill Lee, Dick Ward and Roy Joiner were nipped for 24 hits by the San Antonio Missions yesterday as the Cubs won the spring training trip's high scoring game, 24 to 21.

McKeehn Expects Rabbit Back Soon

St. Petersburg, Fla.—If Manager Bill McKeehn of the Boston Braves is right, then Rabbit Maravalle, who broke his leg in a game with the Yankees last week, will be back in a tribal uniform before the season is very old.

"I look for the Rabbit to rejoin us in May," says Bill, who is optimistic if nothing else.

Golf Clubs Boost Their Memberships

Chicago, April 5.—(AP)—A survey conducted by Herb Graffis, editor of Golfdom magazine, today disclosed that 520 golf clubs in the United States already had increased their membership by almost 9,000 over a year ago.

The gain, Graffis said, represented an average increase per club of 17 new members.

HEALO is an excellent Foot Powder that should be included in every one's toilet. Sold by all drug stores.

Gibson Unworried by Pitchers Work

Tucson, Ariz.—Manager George Gibson, whose Pittsburgh Pirates are barnstorming their way east with the Chicago White Sox, says he is undismayed by the somewhat dismal performance of his pitching staff.

He expects the moundsmen will "adjust themselves" as the season advances and asserts the team has developed unexpected utility strength.

Harris Not Happy Over His Pitchers

Orlando, Fla.—Bucky Harris isn't at all happy over his Red Sox pitching staff.

The Sox work farther north today and meet the Baltimore Orioles at Jacksonville. George Pipgras will pitch, and Harris looks to him for a better showing than Dusty Rhodes made against the Dodgers yesterday.

Senators En Route Home: at Memphis

Memphis, Tenn.—With the dust of training camp finally shaken off their feet, the Senators today tackled the Memphis Chicks at the start of their trek northward.

Manager Joe Cronin nominated Monte Weaver to pitch for seven innings the longest period of toil yet allowed a Washington hurler.

Hudlin of Indians Shows Great Form

Meridian, Miss.—Willis Hudlin, Cleveland Indian hurler, has run his string of scoreless innings against major league pennant winners to thirteen.

First he blanked Washington for five innings, then the New York Giants for four, and yesterday added four more against the Giants.

Tampa, Fla.—Ivy Shiver, whom the Cincinnati Reds obtained from Detroit is expected to do big things in the regular season if he equals his grapefruit league performing. What with his home runs and triples and doubles, the pitchers are now deliberately passing him.

Gehrig is Hitting Like House-a-Fire

Atlanta—Lou Gehrig's bat has sounded a warning to Babe Ruth and Jimmie Foxx that they'd better look to their laurels this year. In two days here Lou walloped three home runs, a triple and a single and batted in ten runs.

WASH OUT 15 MILES OF KIDNEY TUBES

Win Back Pep...Vigor...Vitality

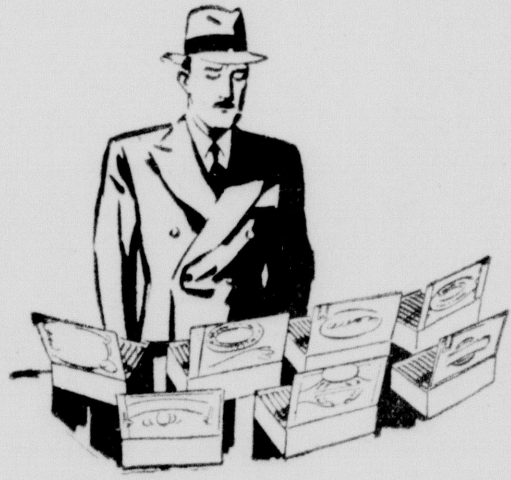

Medical authorities agree that your kidneys contain 15 MILES of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. They should pour out thru the bladder 3 pints of fluid a day which contains 4 pounds of waste matter.

If you have trouble with too frequent bladder passages with scanty amount causing burning and discomfort, the 15 MILES of kidney tubes need washing out. This danger signal may be the beginning of nagging backache, leg pains, loss of pep and vitality, getting up nights, lumbago, swollen feet and ankles, rheumatic pains and distress.

If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Don't wait. Ask your druggist for DOAN'S PILLS. If kidneys don't empty 3 pints every day, your body will take up these poisons causing serious trouble. It may knock you out and lay you up for many months. Let's ask dealers what cigar these hard-to-please smokers like best.

Bayuk "PHILLIES"

Formerly 10c

Let's ask them what cigar most of their customers like best.

Dealers—almost without exception—will answer: Bayuk "PHILLIES". They say—and sales records prove it—that more men smoke Bayuk "Phillies" than any other cigar on the counter.

When you try Bayuk "Phillies"—remember this. It's not a 5c cigar. It's America's former largest-selling 10c brand reduced to 5c. Read Bayuk's Guarantee.

This guaranteed 10c quality makes the vast difference that separates Bayuk "Phillies" from other cigars now selling for 5c.

Bayuk's Guarantee

In 1929—a peak sales year—the Bayuk Philadelphia Perfecto (famously known as "Philadelphia Hand-made") was the largest-selling 10-cent brand in America.

Bayuk guarantees that this cigar today—at 5 cents—contains the same fine Imported Sumatra wrapper—the same fine ripe Domestic and Havana long-filler. It's the same identical cigar.

Flush Clean with Non-Irritating
Pluto Water

Ever hear of "cathartic constipation"? Medicine laxatives cause it. Most of them work by irritating the membranes of the digestive tract—an unnatural method!

That's why more than 50,000 physicians recommend Pluto Water. For Pluto is not a drug or medicine laxative but a saline mineral water. The same amount each time—no need to increase it—always performs, does not gripe, gives positive results in less than one hour. It cannot give you the laxative habit!

Pluto Water is gentle—but speedy. It promptly opens the pylorus valve—permitting the flush to enter the intestines without anxious hours of waiting.

The proper dilution—one-fifth glass Pluto in four-fifths glass hot water—is practically tasteless. Take it whenever sluggish—get results within an hour—and end that laxative habit! In two sizes: Splits (8 ounces), 25c—large bottles (3 times the quantity), 50c. At all druggists.

SERIES OF POST-EASTER CHURCH SERVICES HERE

Famous Bible Student Is Secured by Dixon Ministerial Soc.

The Dixon Ministerial Association is delighted to introduce the Reverend Henry Hampton Halley, D. D., to the people of Dixon-land and announce his coming to this community for a series of thirteen evening services. The first service will be next Tuesday, April 10th, and the other twelve meetings will follow through to and including the evening of April 22.

Dr. Halley has gained a nationwide reputation as being one of the very few people in the world who recite the entire Bible from memory. He has selected the major portions of each of the sixty-six books of the Bible, all of each book that sets forth the essential facts and teachings, and in its own language he quotes "without a moment's hesitation and without the error of a word." The Presbyterian Magazine says of him: "At times his face takes on a glow of suffused spiritual emotion that seems to transfigure him."

Highly Praised
Free from all that is bizarre or sensational, Mr. Halley recites the narrative of each book in a quiet, musical voice, with emphasis and modulation enough to bring out the meaning. Rev. A. L. Faust, pastor of the Washington Park Methodist church of Bridgeport, Conn., has recently said of Mr. Halley's work that it is "the richest presentation of the Bible to which I have ever listened." "Your work is lasting, because not you but your message is the main attraction," said Rev. A. D. Freden, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran church of Burlington, Iowa. Rev. W. H. Geistweitz, Pastor of the First Baptist church of Dayton, Ohio, says of Mr. Halley's work: "At times the feeling created was one of awe, almost uncanny—a voice from the Bible itself." "Our people were captivated. As a result the Bible has a new place in the lives of many," said Dr. J. R. Goldner, pastor of the Euclid Ave. Christian church of Cleveland, O.

In Methodist Church
The Dixon pastors conducted a rather extended correspondence with well known pastors who know Rev. Halley's work. There was not an adverse opinion by anyone. Many laymen, also, expressed themselves most enthusiastically over that which Rev. Halley has done for them. One of these laymen, famous for the invention of the Cadillac and Lincoln automobiles, is Henry M. Leland of Detroit, who says "It was the most wonderful thing I have ever heard. I shall remember you with gratitude as long as I live."

The meetings will be conducted in the local Methodist church, each evening at 7:30. Everyone is urged by the Dixon pastors to reserve next Tuesday evening so as to hear the first of these messages. This, the pastors believe, is the supreme opportunity of all the people of Dixon-land this spring.

Century of Methodist Preaching in Dixon to Be Observed By Church

First Methodist Ser- mon Was Preached Here in 1834

Last Sunday morning at the time of the offertory in the Easter service, the chairman of the Board of the local Methodist church, F. D. Palmer, read to the large audience a statement which had been passed by the official board of the church in its January meeting. He spoke briefly concerning the contents of the statement as did H. C. Warner for the Board of Trustees, E. C. Hintz for the church school, Mrs. Arthur Sheffield for the Ladies Aid, Mrs. Charles Willford for the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society and Mrs. H. D. Bills for the Woman's Home Missionary Society. Mr. Palmer then presented Mr. Warner's motion for the adoption of the resolutions that had been seconded, and there was a multitude of people on their feet. No one opposed the question.

Following is the statement:

ONE HUNDRED YEARS OF METHODIST PREACHING IN DIXON, ILLINOIS 1834-1934

At its meeting in November, the Official Board heard a statement from the Pastor to the effect that in the year 1834, the first Methodist sermon was preached in Dixon. He further stated that Methodist preachers came here to Dixon's Ferry occasionally during 1835 and 1836, but on May 7, 1837, the church was legally organized. A committee was authorized to study the information given and devise a suitable schedule of commemoration, the following committee was created:

L. B. Neighbour
F. D. Palmer
H. A. Ahrens
C. C. Hintz
The Pastor

At its meeting, January 16, the committee concluded that the nature of the historic facts, suggested a celebration including the two events, namely the first sermon and the organization of the church. It seemed to the committee also, that, since the exact month in which Rev. L. A. Sugg preached this first sermon is not known, it would be fitting to lay special stress upon preaching this year, bringing to our pulpit occasionally some of our greatest preachers, dividing this extra preaching throughout the year.

It is our conviction that former pastors, as Dr. F. D. Stone, Dr. A. S. Moore, Dr. Victor Thrall, Rev. A. T. Stephenson and others, be invited to come to us at times most convenient to themselves and to our Pastor.

It is further recommended that we invite our Bishop and other Bishops to spend a Sunday with us. Also, we recommend that a few of the ablest preachers now attached to the general Boards of the Church be invited to come to us with messages from the wider out-reaches of Methodism. In view of the magnitude of the event of the organization of the church so long ago, it seems to your committee that our church should begin at once to make plans of advance and create objectives of such challenging nature that we may come up to the Centenary date of May 7, 1937 with a tremendous momentum.

We therefore recommend:

1. That this Board issue a challenge to each organization to increase its activities, efficiency, and net membership 50 per cent by May 7, 1937. This will mean healthy growth plus special effort.

2. That the membership goal of our church at the centenary date be set at 1500 active members. Being the only Methodist church in this fine community of more than 12,000 souls and having had an honorable history of service, this goal can be reached by normal growth, personal and mass evangelism and an ever increasing understanding and use of Christian education.

3. That a complete survey of Dixon-land be made by our visitation department, using our present members living as they do in all minor divisions of Dixon and its environs. The facts of this survey given to the church in lists of names, maps and maps will be vital to each organization.

4. Put all our organizations doing any form of educational work into the best possible condition for service, such as the latest approved methods, best literature, books, maps, pictures, and hymn books. The Education Department will be able from time to time to make many helpful suggestions. A circulating library for teachers and leaders should be created at once, including the books we now have.

5. That our church property be put into the best possible repair, fully decorated, modernized and well furnished.

6. That we express our gratitude to the Trustees for the productive condition of the Endowment Fund and urge that every care be used to safeguard it. We further recommend that our people be informed about their opportunities in providing for this Fund in their wills.

7. That a committee be created to write an historic pageant for the period of the Centenary celebration.

8. We further recommend that the Board, pledge our people the best possible leadership in this program of advance and that wholeheartedly we greet our Pastor and promise him every possible support in the arduous but thrilling work of leading us up through the many details to complete victory on May 7, 1937.

(This resolution was presented to the Official Board at its meeting January 20, 1934, and adopted with enthusiasm.)

FACTORY WAGES REACH PEAK IN FEBRUARY ROLL

Commerce Dept. Data Revealed in To- day's Report

Washington, April 5—(AP)—Payrolls in American manufacturing industry hit a new high in February, creating peaks in both wages and employment untouched since early in 1931.

The Department of Commerce, announcing this today, added that probable further improvement in March would supplant these figures, but that only incomplete estimates for the month were available.

The department stated that a swelling in manufacturing payrolls of 12 per cent in February as compared to January constituted the greatest one-month improvement in 15 years.

A 6 per cent gain in actual factory employment during the month as compared to January was recorded as having been exceeded only three times in 15 years.

None of the figures included the splurge of pay increases recently announced in the steel, automobile and other industries, many of which go into effect this month.

NRA Getting Data
The NRA was disclosed today to be watching such data intently, while gathering more of its own.

On good authority it was indicated that quick general action by industry to shorten working hours for re-employment is not now expected by blue eagle officials but within a reasonable period voluntary cuts are looked for from large individual groups.

If not, the original idea that a flat 10 per cent reduction be required by the government of all who cannot show good cause to the contrary, may be brought into play.

The present attitude is to put the responsibility directly up to business. Is spokesmen have urged upon Hugh S. Johnson insistently their view that if there is no compulsion many industries will do the thing handsomely. With his own belief that the initiative should be on the part of industry, Johnson has found it easy to leave direct action to private interests for a time.

WIDOW OF GARY, STEEL CO. HEAD DIED THIS MORN

Was Noted Hostess in Days of Her Hus- band's Success

New York, Apr. 5—(AP)—Mrs. Elbert H. Gary, widow of the steel magnate, died at 9 o'clock this morning at her Fifth Avenue residence after a prolonged illness.

Mrs. Gary, the former Emma Townsend, was the second wife of the steel man, whom she married in 1905, three years after the death of his first wife.

At the time of their marriage, he had been identified with the United States Steel Corporation for four years. Mrs. Gary's most important role was as hostess at the famous dinners she and her husband gave when he was at the peak of his career.

After his death in 1927, she lived quietly in their Jericho, Long Island, home and in an upper Fifth Avenue apartment.

Checked Servants
She was a meticulous housekeeper. Her servants were carefully checked in and out of the building, and every morning a report on their movements was shipped under her door.

One reason for such care was the great value of the furnishings and art treasures in their home. The Gary gold dinner service alone was reputed to be worth $500,000. They also owned a less valuable but larger silver service.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary had no children, although Gary had two daughters, Mrs. Gertrude Gary Sutcliffe and Mrs. Bertha Gary Campbell by his first wife.

Advice to Heirs
In his will Gary gave some advice to his wife and daughters about handling the huge fortune that he left them virtually intact. He advised them not to sign a bond for any other person, to make loans on nothing but first class security, to avoid untried investments

WEEKLY SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

THE CHILD AND THE KINGDOM

Text: Matt. 18:1-14; 19:13-15
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for April 8.

By WM. E. GILROY, D. D.,
Editor of Advance

Jesus is unique among world teachers in the simplicity with which he expressed and illustrated the deepest things.

When the disciples came to him asking, "Who is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven?" Jesus perceived their false perception of the kingdom and their wrong notions of greatness. He found it necessary to teach them the lesson of humility, and he did it in a very concrete way.

Calling a little child to him, he set this child in their midst and said, "Except ye be converted and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven."

How puzzled the disciples must have been, and how their minds and consciences must have been aroused as Jesus added that the greatest in the kingdom of heaven was the one who should humble himself like a little child! To illustrate the nature of this humility Jesus linked it with lowly service.

The achievement of a man's life, his greatness, and the measure of his success are not determined by the approval that he wins from the great, but by the spirit in which he serves those who need his help. To do something for a little child is greater than anything else, and to offend a little child is to do something so tragic that it were better that one had been cast a millstone around his neck.

It was in the same spirit that Jesus spoke of the spirit of his religion, the gospel of God's grace surrounding men and seeking to bring them back when they had gone astray. Here he used the figure of the shepherd with the hundred sheep, concerned more about the one sheep that he had lost than about the 99 who were safe in his flock.

How little either the world or the church has learned these lessons! How careless we are in society, of the lowly, the poor, and the needy, the down-trodden, and the oppressed!

And yet the slum has in it the power to destroy the city. It is from the lost and neglected areas of our city life that there come the bandits and the thugs, who war against society, who kidnap those from higher classes, who rob and raid banks, and who give to all of society insecurity.

Would it not be better if we took the way of Jesus and paid more attention to the lost and the neglected? Even in the church how little we have learned the lesson! It is a great thing to nurture the young and keep them in the fold of the church so that none may go astray, but we lack the quality of a good shepherd if, when the young go astray, we can disregard their wandering.

The attitude of Jesus toward the children was more fully and beautifully emphasized in his treatment of them, when his disciples rebuked the mothers who had brought their little ones that Jesus might bless them.

Jesus had witnessed the concern and fussiness with which the disciples were sending the mothers away, and he interposed with the gracious words that Christianity has written so beautifully as an ideal for all the world, "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not, for of such is the kingdom of heaven."

The power and strength of the church, the power and strength of the nation are determined by the attitude toward little children. No institution can be great that despises the life of those upon whom its future depends.

Living Our Everyday Lives

SIDE-STEPPING

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

"You will never get a crab to walk straight," an old Greek proverb tells us. No, he walks sideways, and so do we.

Side-stepping is the oldest art of man. It began with Adam in the Garden of Eden, and all his sons have kept it up. A race of arful dodgers, we are adepts in finding alibis, experts in evasion.

If possible we take the easiest way, which is the hardest way in the end. We refuse to face a difficulty if we can get around it, and that only makes it more difficult when we have to deal with it.

A difficulty dodged is like a debt unpaid; the interest piles up, making the last bill bigger than the first. Yet we go on putting a thing off, refusing to look at it, instead of getting the job done.

It is so in large affairs as well as in small matters. The makers of our Constitution side-stepped the slavery issue, hushed it up, slurred it over. They would not allow the word to appear in that great document, but they knew the fact would have to be faced sometime.

So they put it off, pushed it forward, leaving a schism in the soul of the nation, and a Civil War had to be fought to heal it. It would have been wiser, as well as cheaper, if our fathers had faced the issue squarely, settled it once for all, and got it out of the way.

For two years or more we declined to face the depression. We even denied it. We fooled ourselves by saying that it was only a dip, a jolt, just a slight sag, and everything would snap back again. Things did snap, but not in the way we imagined in our evasion and folly.

In the deeper things of life we are dodgers too. How easy to kick up intellectual difficulties in regard to religious faith, when the fact is that the first thing in religion is not right with us. Our doubt is often only a smoke-screen to hide a secret evasion of heart.

Yes, side-stepping is a costly business. It is only deceiving ourselves. For in the end, as we well know, we must face up to life as it is—ay, must stand before the God who made us and give an account of it.

LEE OFFICIALS SAYS VOTER CAN CHANGE PRIMARY

Co. Judge Wm. Leech and State's Attorney Edw.
Jones Explain

Lee County Judge William Leech yesterday declared voters may change their party affiliations at any time despite the recent decision of Federal Judge John Barnes in Chicago that a voter cannot legally change his party in less than two years.

The decision of Judge Barnes had caused considerable confusion in Democratic and Republican party circles here and Judge Leech was asked to make a ruling in Lee county on the legality of votes cast in the April 10 primary by voters who have changed their party. Judge Leech said in part: "As a constitutional right, people can change their party affiliations at any time, irrespective of any law to the contrary. A man has the inherent right to change his politics the same as he has a right to change his religion. It would be silly to say a man must remain a Republican until August and it would be just as silly to say that man must remain a Republican or a Democrat until that time."

The board of election commissioners in Rockford also announced Saturday night that every voter in the April 10 primary in Rockford would be permitted to select the party ballot which suits him best. Possibility that voters in Rockford might be forced to adhere to party affiliations of two years ago created great interest there and brought a flood of calls to the election commission offices.

By STATE'S ATTORNEY JONES

I have been requested by numerous candidates for office to express an opinion concerning the right of one who voted in the Republican primaries two years ago to vote in the Democratic primaries on April 10th, 1934, or vice-versa. As most people know, an opinion has been expressed by Federal Judge John P. Barnes to the effect that this can not be done. A contradictory opinion has been rendered by Attorney General Otto H. Kerner, in which he holds that the change may be made.

In his opinion, Judge Barnes holds that the time elapsing before a change can be made must be two full calendar years, or twice 365 days. Judge Kerner holds that the legislature intended "two years" to mean two political years, and that a voter may change his politics every two years. The whole question resolves itself into one of determination of the legislative intent in making the two year limitation. Undoubtedly the purpose of limitation was to prevent members of one political party from controlling the nominees of the opposite party. No power exists in the legislature to prevent a citizen from changing his political affiliation or belief at any time he may choose to do so.

In order to prevent, however, the unfair participation of members of one party in the primary of another, the limitation of two years was set up. In order to prevent control of the destiny and nominees of one party by the members of another party, the state-wide primaries are fixed by law to be held on the second Tuesday in April in each year in which a President of the United States is to be elected, or in each year in which officers are to be voted for on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November. Consequently, a primary is held over the State every two years, not calendar years, but on the second Tuesday in April, whenever that may fall. In 1928 the primaries were held on April 10th; in 1930, the date was April 8th; in 1932, April 12th. In 1934 the date will be April 10th. In 1936, April 14th; in 1938, April 12th. From the above it will appear that if the legislature meant two full calendar years to elapse, a Republican who voted in his party primary on April 10th, 1928, could not have changed his politics in 1930 because the primaries were less than two full calendar years after the 1928 primaries were less than two full calendar years after the 1932 primaries. Therefore, he must have waited four years, no matter how sincere he may have been in the conviction that he should change.

Now let's look at the situation existing in April, 1936, at which time the primaries will be held on April 14th, which will be four days more than two full calendar years after the April 10th primaries in 1934. A Republican in 1934 would be permitted to change his politics in 1936 because, under Judge Barnes' ruling, two full calendar years have lapsed. In the first instance, the voter must wait four years, and in the last, only two, if "calendar" years were intended by the legislature.

It seems unreasonable to believe that the legislature ever intended to bring about any such unreasonable and impractical result. The time fixed for holding the primaries was the second Tuesday in April, whenever that may fall. The legislature undoubtedly knew this day would not fall on the same date every two years, but would vary with the years. If such holding were true, there would be no legal House of Representatives for different periods of time in the State of Illinois, inasmuch as the day on which the members are elected falls on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, which said days also vary with the years.

I have followed the opinion of Attorney General Otto H. Kerner in the above statement, and heartily subscribe to that opinion and believe that a Republican may call for a Democratic ballot and enter the Democratic primaries at the general primaries to be held April 10th, 1934, or vice-versa, and I further believe that voters should not be misled or confused by the contradictory ruling above, quoted, but should enter the primaries and vote as if no question had ever been raised.

Vernon, Ind.; Jean Carmen, Portland, Ore.; Lu Anne Meredith, Dallas, Tex.; Helen Cohan, New York City; Jacqueline Wells, Denver; Gigi Parrish, Cambridge, Mass.; Judith Arlen, Hollywood; Lucille Lund, Buckley, Wash.; Katherine Williams, Seattle; Jean Gale, San Francisco; and Hazel Hayes, La Crosse, Kan.

Daily Health Talk

INSOMNIA

The insomnia sufferer usually is the victim of a vicious circle. The less able he is to fall asleep, the more deeply he is concerned about his difficulty and the more strenuously he tries to overcome it. The result is that his concern aggravates rather than helps his insomnia.

The average insomnia victim can gain much mental relief from the realization that simple insomnia has never been known to cause death. In medicine we are acquainted with numerous individuals, robust and healthy, if somewhat pessimistic, who swear that they haven't slept a night for seven years.

Having been convinced of the relative harmlessness of insomnia, the sufferer must set himself, with the aid of his physician, to the task of discovering why he finds it difficult to fall asleep.

Is the patient healthy, or does he suffer from high blood pressure or a condition involving the heart? Are his kidneys sound? Does his thyroid overfunction? A thoroughgoing examination will reveal whether insomnia is due to any organic or functional disease.

The elimination, correction, or proper treatment of whatever undesirable conditions may be discovered, will help to overcome the insomnia.

Then to there may be a number of emotional or psychologic causes for the insomnia—business worries, for example, home difficulties, and the like. Discussing one's difficulties with one's physician or a sympathetic friend may unburden the mind and permit one to rest. The insomnia sufferer should review his personal habits. Does he indulge in exciting games late at night? Does he imbibe too many stimulants, coffee, alcohol or tea? Does he read the latest and most exciting detective story before retiring? Is his bed comfortable? After checking on all of these items, there are still the ancient and in many instances effective remedies for insomnia, namely, a walk before retiring, a warm bath, and a glass of warm milk.

HOW WOMEN CAN WIN MEN AND MEN WIN

The Favor of Other Men

Unless two pints of bile juice flow daily from your liver into your bowels, your food decays in your bowels. This poisons your whole body. Movements get hard and constipated. You get yellow tinge, yellow skin, pimples, dull eyes, bad breath, bad taste, gas, dizziness, headache. You have become an ugly-looking, foul-smelling, sour-thinking person. You have lost your personal charm. Everybody wants to run from you.

But don't take salts, mineral waters, pills, laxative pills, laxative candies or chewing gums and expect them to get rid of this poison that destroys your personal charm. They can't do it for they only move out the tail end of your bowels and that doesn't take away enough of the decayed poison. Constipation won't help at all. Only a free flow of your bile juice will stop this decayed poison in your bowels. The one mild vegetable medicine which starts a free flow of your bile juice is Carter's Little Liver Pills. No calomel (mercury) in Carter's. Only fine, mild vegetable extracts. If you would bring back your personal charm to win men, start taking Carter's Little Liver Pills according to directions today. See at drug stores. Refuse "something just as good," for it may gripe, loosen teeth or scald rectum. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name and get what you ask for. © 1933, C.M. Co.

It took many years of work to bring all the railroads to one standard width of track. The present standard width of 4 ft. 8 1/2 inches was used on early New England lines, and later in the mid-west. A 5-foot width was used in the south, and the middle Atlantic states had no uniformity. The Erie began with a 6-foot gauge.

KINGDOM FOLKS MOURN DEATH OF MRS. ALBERTSON

Funeral Held Saturday: Other News of Vicinity

Once again the angel of death has entered our community taking from our midst Mrs. Mary Albertson. She had lived her entire life in this community, having reached the age of 88 years. Mrs. Albertson stood for all that is for the betterment of the human race and when she was able was ever ready to lend a helping hand to her loved ones and to her neighbors. She had been in ill health for a long time but only recently gave up. All that could be done for her by loving hands was done but to no avail, her spirit going home.

The funeral was held at Kingdom church on Saturday afternoon and the attendance was large and the floral offerings were beautiful. Rev. H. H. Heidenreich, former pastor here, had charge of the services, using for his theme a passage from the fifth chapter of the book of Amos. She leaves to mourn her departure three children: Mrs. Frank Fisel of near Nelson; Mrs. Rena Brink of White, South Dakota; and Willard Albertson at home; several grandchildren and great grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. Ann Colwell, of near Kingdom; one brother, Samuel Gull of McCook, Neb.; other relatives and a host of friends. Mrs. Elmer Whitney and Ora Floto sang two numbers assisted at the piano by Mrs. Clifford Floto. Casket bearers were: Geo. Greenwood, Charles Henry, Johnnie Morris, Leonard Stevens, Geo. Floto and William Morris.

Quake Rips Furrow in Earth Crust

Earthquake cracks as wide as 14 inches were left by shocks that rocked the vicinity of Kosmo, Utah, at the northern end of Great Salt Lake. Geologist Frederick J. Pack and his wife are shown here, their car spanning one of the cracks, which extend for miles. The shocks threw water from the lake more than two miles beyond its natural borders.

This dear neighbor and friend will be missed by all who knew her, but she will be missed most by those who were associated in the home with her.

The ROMANTIC RUNAWAY

by KATHARINE HAVILAND-TAYLOR

BEGIN HERE TODAY

PABLO, a handsome youth, becomes a fugitive when he flees from Key West to Havana with BEAU and LOTTIE, two thieves. Pablo has been accused of a murder he did not commit. He is in love with ESTELLE FIELD, daughter of rich JIM FIELD, but feels he has exiled himself from her forever.

In Havana he becomes celebrated as a boxer and he and Beau open a gymnasium. SIR ARTHUR, a titled Englishman and Pablo's father, is searching for his son, employing BILLINGS, New York detective. Three years pass and then Pablo and Estelle meet again. They admit their love for each other. MARCIA THE RUNAWAY who is visiting the Fields could prove that Pablo was not the murderer but has remained silent, fearing scandal.

Billings, in Havana, suspects Pablo may be Sir Arthur's son. He decides to pay a visit to Morro Castle.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY CHAPTER XXXI

THE morning that Billings decided to visit Morro Castle was the same one on which Marcia Treadway said to Estelle, "I suppose I really ought to see the place."

The sentence ended in a yawn. Estelle said eagerly, "I'll order the car for 11 if that suits you."

"Oh, I suppose it will," Marcia agreed. "Hand me that newspaper, will you, child? And—read my letters for me. I don't know why people want to waste so much ink and paper anyhow."

Estelle settled to open and read Marcia's letters. At the third one she paused. It was from the one friend in whom Marcia confided.

This friend—knowing Marcia's quest though not the purpose behind it—had written, "Have you found your Pablo yet for any chance?"

Estelle looked quickly at Marcia who was studying the late-in-the-season list of arrivals in Havana and did not see the look. When Estelle went on reading her hand shook a little. What could Marcia want of Pablo? Would she recognize him if she were to see him? Estelle, continuing her reading only half-conscious of the words, thought she probably would.

She spoke up then. "This is evidently from a close friend of yours. She signs herself Jane." Marcia was instantly alert. "Give it here, child," she ordered sharply. "I didn't know there was a letter there from her."

"The envelope was addressed with a typewriter," Estelle explained. "She is secretary to Mrs. I. Browning Bishop."

"I HAVEN'T read much of it," said Estelle. Marcia's eyes narrowed, moving down the page and coming upon the mention of Pablo. Estelle's too quickly given reassurance told that she had seen the words. It was unfortunate.

Marcia could not, at the moment, think of an acceptable explanation so, with outward calm, she finished reading the letter, resolved to request Jane hereafter never to use that name again—at least in writing.

Estelle was standing. "Then you'll be ready at 11?" she questioned.

"Yes, darling." "It's a good time for the trip. A grim day is best."

"Poetic little lamb, aren't you?" Marcia asked, amused.

Estelle turned away with more color than usual in her cheeks. She was accustomed to being laughed at for such remarks and the laughter always made her feel lonely and young and misplaced. Pablo was the only one who did not laugh at her. He understood and often said the same sort of things himself.

Thinking of him for a moment, Estelle closed her eyes. They were to be married as soon as she was 21—two long years ahead. They knew they could not hope for Jim Field's consent to the marriage and that if they married without his consent no obstacles without his finding them. Estelle it was who had seen the wisdom of waiting the two years and who had insisted upon it. There were times when she wondered at her own strength in making this decision but even then she clung to it.

At the edge of Morro Castle Billings stepped from the car he had hired for the morning. "Ouch!" he groaned loudly. Then he climbed the hill stiffly and, on the way up, acquired a guide.

A smartly attired, hard-faced woman and a slender girl passed by, walking briskly and easily. "The young one is the daughter of Mr. James Field," said the guide, nodding toward the couple.

"Is that so?"

"Yes, she is the beloved of Juanito, the fighter. They meet in the Parque."

"You don't say so!" Suddenly Billings was interested.

"Ah, yes! But Havana smiles upon the affair. Her father, Field, is very bad. The daughter is an angel and Juanito a good, good young man."

"About how old is he anyway?" Billings asked as if to make conversation.

"Twenty-one or two, I would suppose. Ah—he is a wonder! A Stoic, a Spartan. He shakes the head to many ladies who seek him." To illustrate the guide shook his head as does an absent-minded individual, vaguely troubled by the buzz of a fly. "Always Juanito remain not in love until she comes. Than—ah! He is captivated. He succumbs completely! It is a pretty affair and all wish him luck."

"Why doesn't he go to the old man and ask for the girl?" Billings questioned between puffs. The coquina-paved grade was steep. Twenty-one or twenty-two—that was the right age. Hang it, he was getting excited about the affair! His heart had plunged as he heard the boy's age.

"Go to him? To Field? Field would buy a nobleman for his daughter to wed! Good or bad, it would not matter."

"Hum—" said Billings.

They were in the fort then and under the shadow of a great wall. "Here," the guide began oratorically, and then suddenly stopped.

He said in a harsh whisper, "There is Juanito himself. He must have followed her here! They say he trails the car when she rides in it!"

"Where?" asked Billings.

The guide nodded.

"Let's move over there. Easy and casual like."

"Mozy?" the guide echoed stupidly.

"Vamos. Move along. I want to get near him but don't want to be caught. See?"

"Ah, the intrigue!" The guide smiled, showing a flash of white teeth. He took up his lecturing, perhaps a little over-loudly. "If the Senor will step this way I will show him—"

Billings stood quite near to Pablo as he looked at a spot in the wall where, the guide said, a patriot had once dislodged a stone to find a way to freedom.

Billings studied the young man casually. A darned good-looking young fellow, he was. Tall and broad of shoulder with clear, blue eyes. He seemed to be watching the gate as though looking for someone. Then Billings saw the two women who had passed him near. The one who was Field's daughter lagged so that for a moment she was behind her companion. Billings saw her shake her head violently at Juanito.

He heard the young man. "Pretty rough time they had here, wasn't it?" he asked Pablo. No one brought up near Cienfuegos, Billings knew, would speak English without an accent. He waited Juanito's reply tensely.

"Yes, very bad," Billings heard and knew that the story about Tia Julia and Cienfuegos was a lie.

"This is my first trip here," he confessed. "I think we kind of thought in the United States that all that happened in this war was Roosevelt riding around with his boys."

"Is that so?" "All before your time, I guess." The boy was looking after the girl. He had not heard.

"They say," Billings continued louder, "a stranger ought to see Cienfuegos, too."

"Oh, yes. Quite a sight." "I have a friend who has a sugar place near there. His name is Green. Josiah Green. I wonder if you can tell me which way his place lies? I want to look him up—"

Juanito said absently that he was sorry but he could not. Now Billings was utterly certain that the story about Tia Julia was a lie. He had learned the day before that Josiah Green's plantation was a large and famous one. Any boy reared at Cienfuegos would know of Josiah Green.

"Well, I'll ask elsewhere. Thanks just the same," Billings said. Then with great interest, contrasting sharply with the indifference of his other words, he put a question to the guide about how many—exactly how many—men had been shot in Morro by the Spaniards.

"Britain's Dust Heap"

"Flower of the world," the home-loving Maltese call their island, and it is fairly fertile although the wind threatens to blow it into the ocean. The first sight of it from the sea is so unimpressed as to lead some who have only seen it from afar to call it "Britain's dust heap."

The most astonishing feat performed by any of the religious mendicants of India is one which a 60-pound boy is placed in a sling and lifted a foot from the ground by means of two cords attached by metallic caps to the inside of the beggar's eyelids.
